67-Day Row Scheduled To End Today

THE DECKER-Harris battle is scheduled to end at 9 a.m. today with the police officer reassigned to duty.
Patrolman Russell Decker has been off duty since Burgess Hal H. Harris first "suspended" him 67 days ago for refusing to drive the burgess to East Stroudsburg.

YESTERDAY morning—with legal action scheduled for filing that very afternoon—the burgess told Decker to report for duty at 9 a.m. today to direct traffic at Seventh and Ann Sts.
Explaining his action last night, Burgess Harris said: "Just say the matter has been settled agreeably between me and the powers that be. Agreeably to everyone."
"When you're in public life," the burgess observed, "you have to compromise."

WALTER OLENICK is Decker's attorney. Last night he gave this version of the morning encounter:
Decker reported at the police station in uniform as he had been doing daily since July 8. This time, however, he was not told "no assignment."
"Are you ready to go to work?" asked the burgess, according to Olenick's version.
"I've been ready," Decker replied.

"REPORT tomorrow at 9 a.m. to direct traffic at Seventh and Ann," said the burgess.
That ended the exchange so far as the two principals were concerned.
But Stroudsburg Council also was involved in the tiff. Council voted unanimously July 7 to reinstate Decker but to withhold his salary for June. The burgess responded that Decker would never be assigned to duty as long as he (Harris) was burgess.
At a special meeting last Friday, council authorized Borough Solicitor George T. Robinson to take legal action to compel the burgess to assign Decker to duty.

ROBINSON SAID he would be prepared to file the papers at the Courthouse yesterday afternoon. Harris said he would fight the action.
Robinson had this to say last night:
"The mayor informed me . . . that he was reassigning the officer to duty tomorrow morning . . . so we took no action."
The affair started back in May when the burgess told Decker to drive him to a meeting of the Central Labor Union in East Stroudsburg.

DECKER SAID he refused because it was a Sunday afternoon and he was the only officer on duty in Stroudsburg, and because he felt he was hired by the borough to serve in the borough and to remain on duty there in case anything happened.
Harris suspended Decker. At borough council's regular June meeting councilmen found Decker had been improperly suspended because the burgess had failed to take the proper legal steps.
The burgess then filed formal charges of neglect of duty, disobedience of order from his superior, conduct unbecoming an officer and failure to properly cover the meters on his beat during April and one week in May.

DECKER REMAINED off duty for the month of June. Council at its regular July meeting ordered Decker's June pay withheld and instructed that he be reinstated.
The burgess from that point on simply refused to assign the officer to any duty. Decker continued to draw full pay, however, for the time he was off duty in July.

Russia Urges Korean Talks

MOSCOW, FRIDAY (AP) — The Soviet government called officially today for a new international conference on reunification of Korea.
It said the successful results of the Geneva Indochina parley also opened the way for "a successful settlement" by negotiation of the reunification of Germany, disarmament and the ending of the atomic race.

The government took the unusual step of publishing a four-column official statement giving its views on the first page of Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper. The statement gave no indication when or where the government thought future parleys should be held.

House Increases Catch-All Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional budget-cutting drive was derailed yesterday as the House, under presidential prodding, added $109,146,549 to a catch-all appropriation bill.
The funds added were restorations of all or part of cuts imposed by the House Appropriations Committee in budget estimates of President Eisenhower for fiscal 1955.
Even so, the $1,303,334,628 appropriated in the bill was $566,623,639, or 33.5 per cent, below the $1,959,958,267 requested by the President for miscellaneous agencies financed in the measure.

Ike's Atomic Bill Foes Score Victory

Senate Adopts Amendment At Long Session

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Friday (AP)—Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) early today filed a petition for cloture to limit debate and force a vote on the atomic legislation as the Senate neared its 39th hour in continuous session. The drastic move requires votes of 64 senators to be effective.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of the Eisenhower atomic energy bill scored an upset victory yesterday at a marathon session of the Senate as it voted 45-41 to allow the federal government to go into the commercial production of atomic power.

The round-the-clock battle then continued unabated.

AT 11 P.M. the Senate had been in continuous session for 37 hours. Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) pleaded in vain for a time limit on debate on a pending amendment.

The vote on atomic power came after critics had hammered away at the idea that provisions of the Eisenhower bill to permit private industry to get into the atomic power field amounted to a "gigantic give-away."

SEN. GORE (D-Tenn.) said the bill would "furnish wheelbarrows" to private companies to cart away vast national resources.

In vain, administration backers declared the Atomic Energy Commission has no desire to get into the commercial power field. The Senate voted to authorize the AEC, and some other federal agencies, to build atomic plants capable of producing commercial quantities of power.

THE SENATE'S public galleries were nearly filled with spectators as Knowland rose at 10 p.m., just 36 hours after the present marathon session got under way, to appeal to the senators as "reasonable men" to agree to a limit on debate.

At 10:45 p.m. Sen. Langer (D-ND) obtained the floor and began speaking from a thick sheaf of papers. The gallery rows began thinning and there were only about a half dozen other senators on the floor when Langer got under way. The Senate adopted another of some 40 amendments to the atomic bill at 7:47 p.m. after Knowland had withdrawn a quorum call.

THE AMENDMENT was accepted by voice vote after its author, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), modified it.

The proposal would assure that utilities, both public and private, must be given ample notice if a nuclear power station is to be built in their area.

Humphrey quickly brought up another amendment, to provide for recapture of nuclear-licensed developments by the federal government.

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa.) then told the Senate that atomic power "will never affect the coal business of West Virginia adversely."

THE VICTORY over the administration leadership on the power amendment resulted from a lineup of 38 Democrats, 1 Independent, Morse of Oregon, and 6 Republicans: Case and Mundt of South Dakota, Langer and Young of North Dakota, Dworshak of Idaho and Cooper of Kentucky.

On the losing side were 35 Republicans and 6 Democrats: Burke of Ohio, Ervin of North Carolina, Frear of Delaware, Holland and Smithers of Florida, and Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Although the actual results of the vote, if it is enacted into law, depend on future appropriations for atomic plants, it theoretically evened the bitter Senate fight over public vs. private power. Last night the Senate refused to kill an Eisenhower plan for a new private power plant to serve part of the Tennessee Valley area.

Work On New YMCA Project Resumes After Nine-Month Delay Due To Labor Dispute

WORK ON THE YMCA building was resumed full-scale this week for the first time in nine months.

Paul Edinger, chief contractor on the Y job, said last night that his men "went back to work" on Monday. Two men worked on the site that day, Edinger said.

Most of Monday was spent in surveying the situation to "see what should be done first", Edinger said. He identified the two men as a foreman and a workman.

IN ADDITION to these men, from Edinger's own staff, there were "about 13 others on duty at the job" yesterday, he said. Included in this number were bricklayers, laborers, carpenters and tenders, Edinger said.

Bricklayers on the job are actually working on part of Edinger's contract with the Y. Edinger sublet the bricklaying portion of the contract to another contractor.

The bricklayers "came back on Wednesday", Edinger said. Two reported that day and "there were four there" yesterday, the contractor said.

EDINGER SAID the working force would be increased every day until the full complement of

10 Nations Invited To Participate

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain have agreed to join in calling an international conference of about 10 nations by Sept. 1 to create an anti-Communist Southeast Asian Alliance. Consultations with friendly nations which may participate are already being held.

The aim of the conference will be to conclude a defensive treaty that would post "no trespassing" warnings for the Communists along the borders of South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia in Indochina, and of Thailand and Burma.

THE BRITISH agreement to hold a meeting by Sept. 1 apparently represents a concession on timing by Foreign Secretary Eden. Earlier information had been that Eden believed many months would be required to work out the proposed pact.

Secretary of State Dulles had sought creation of anti-Communist strength in Southeast Asia as necessary in view of Communist gains through the Indochina peace settlement reached at Geneva Wednesday.

WHILE THERE was no immediate official announcement of the American-British agreement or of the diplomatic arrangements already under way, State Department press officer Lincoln White fully supported information privately available on the subject when he met reporters at a news conference.

He said that consultations were under way but that details regarding the conference have to be worked out. When pressed to state whether he was confirming that a conference would be held, he said: "I think the implication of what I have said is that a conference is in the offing."

THE EXACT DATE and place of the conference remain to be determined in talks with the other governments which may attend. Consultations with the French regime of Premier Mendes-France, heretofore preoccupied with the Indochina peace negotiations, are expected to begin at once. Some other friendly governments like Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand are already definitely counted in as a result of consultations already held.

THE BRITISH government is sounding out India's Prime Minister Nehru and leaders of Indonesia, Ceylon, Burma and Pakistan on participation. Washington has no real hope that Nehru, a neutralist in the cold war, will be willing to join up, and doubts the wisdom of including Pakistan, which is regarded as more importantly linked to Middle Eastern security through a pact with Turkey, Burma and Ceylon might cooperate, but no optimism is felt about Indonesia's government, which is as neutralist as that of India.

THE STATUS of the Indochina states of south Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia is uncertain.

Fireworks Plant Explosion Kills Two Workers; 10 Hurt

CRANBURY, N. J. (AP) — A violet blast touched off a spectacular fire yesterday, killed two munitions plant workers and rocked the rural central New Jersey countryside for miles around. Ten persons were injured.

White smoke mushroomed from the Unexcelled Chemical Co. plant site and was followed by a towering black cloud of smoke, which could be seen in New Brunswick, 15 miles away.

THE FIRM, one of the state's largest fireworks manufacturers, in recent months had been working exclusively on government contracts, a company spokesman said. For several hours plant officials threw private guards around the property, and refused to admit newspapermen and photographers.

It was the nation's third such explosion in a week in a similar installation. At least 13 persons died last Friday in blasts at Chester-town, Md., and Chicago.

BENJAMIN CROWLEY, assistant to the president of the firm, said the company was operating for the past few months on government contracts on munitions. About 300 persons were at work at the time of the blast.

There was no estimate of damage.

State police tentatively identified the dead as Joseph Lamanita, 45, father of four children who lived in a house on the company property, and his cousin, John Lamanita, 40, of Staten Island, N. Y. The cause was not immediately determined.

Accuses Democrats
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) yesterday charged—and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) warmly denied it—that Senate Democrats are forcing a delay which threatens to mean no farm bill this session.

Routes 209-402 Directional Sign Expected To Be Placed At Gap Bridge By Saturday

A "LARGE SIGN" pointing to Routes 209 and 402 will be erected on the Pennsylvania side of Delaware Water Gap bridge "by Saturday."

Promise of the sign was given by Allentown highway department engineers to Harold Swenson, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, yesterday by telephone, Swenson reported.

THE SIGN is intended to help divert some traffic flow from the Stroudsburg through alternate routes. Only traffic with mountain area destinations would be directly affected, according to Swenson's plan.

Swenson said the unidentified engineer also informed him that the department would "send a representative up here within the next few days" to look over the whole situation.

According to Swenson the sign to be erected before Saturday will be a "large one, clearly lettered." It will say "Next right to U. S. Route 209 and Pa. Route 402" or words to that effect, Swenson said.

Swenson said the sign would "probably be erected between the toll gates on this end and the overhead bridge which crosses the highway."

THE CHAMBER secretary said he believed the Allentown engineer would confer with the local highways committee "within the next four or five days" although no definite date was set for the meeting.

Purpose of that meeting will be to go over a Chamber subcommittee's request for four signs tracing alternate routes between the bridge and Barrett Township, Mount Pocono and other regions on the mountains.

The subcommittee's proposal includes the following:

A SIGN pointing to the Route 420-209 turn-off from Route 611 on the Pennsylvania side of the toll bridge. (This would apparently be nearly identical with the sign proposed by the Allentown department office.)

A sign between Tinkertown railroad crossing and Empire Box Co. plant directing traffic to the Route 402 turn-off to Shawnee.

A sign at the four corners junction of Route 196 and Franklin Hill Road directing traffic along Franklin Hill to N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

A sign at the "T" junction of Franklin Hill and N. Courtland St. (Route 209) directing traffic to Route 209 and Eagle Valley Corners where Route 90 intersects 209.

WHEN ERECTED in sequence, Swenson pointed out this week, the four signs would help to direct a flow of traffic headed for the Eastern Poconos or the upper Poconos resort region from Route 611's central congestion points in the Foxtown Hill area and Stroudsburg.

The measures, he emphasized, would offer "temporary relief" to the traffic problem locally. They would not provide and "should not be considered a 'solution' to the congestion, he said.

NINE MEN from a group of Camp Lindenmere employees who gave blood during yesterday's Jaycee-Red Cross drive are shown in photo walking into the collection center at Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. The camp employees gave blood because a fellow employee, David Frailey, is the son of a Monroe County man who was critically burned this week. The father, Lloyd Frailey, required blood transfusions at General Hospital. These men gave their blood to replace the transfusions given to Frailey who was still listed in "critical" condition last night at the hospital. Story, other photo on Page 3. Reds Execute Beria Aide

MOSCOW, FRIDAY (AP)—Pravda announced today the execution of M. D. Ryumin, chief henchman of the late Police Chief Lavrenty Beria. Ryumin was accused of master-minding the notorious "Doctor's Plot."

The Communist party paper said investigations showed Ryumin had forced the doctors to "slander themselves and other people of perpetrating the heaviest state crime—high treason, espionage, subversive activity and so on."

Pravda said the investigation showed these accusations were absolutely groundless and the persons incriminated had been fully freed.

The newspaper said the military collegium of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union ordered Ryumin shot. The sentence already has been carried out, it added.

West German Anti-Spy Chief Disappears

BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's anti-spy chief, Dr. Otto John, has disappeared mysteriously in Soviet-run East Berlin. The Bonn Interior Ministry charged yesterday Communists kidnaped him. West Berlin police said a note left behind said he did not want to return West.

If he was kidnaped, the Communists landed a major prize.

John, 44, headed the Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution, which is charged with safeguarding the West German republic against treasonable and subversive activities. The FOCP is comparable in many respects to the Central Intelligence Agency in the United States.

IN WASHINGTON, officials reported John had visited the United States in June and conferred with Allen W. Dulles, CIA head. The office, John has an intimate knowledge of anti-subversion operations in his own territory and of West German intelligence sources in Russian-occupied East Germany.

John has not been seen since he left his hotel in Allied West Berlin in a taxi Tuesday night. Police said he called a doctor friend and the two went together to the Soviet sector.

WEST BERLIN police said John was suffering "serious mental depression" recently. They said a note left behind by John's companion, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, indicated that John did not want to return to the West.

The Interior Ministry in Bonn said "Dr. Wohlgemuth, who is known as an active Communist, has probably written the letter in order to remove suspicion from himself."

The Ministry said all clues at present suggest John "is the victim of a kidnapping in the East sector."

Eisenhower Hails Progress Toward A Balanced Budget; Deficit Less Than Estimated

By Frank O'Brien

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced yesterday, with considerable pride, that the federal government's deficit on June 30 was $3,029,000,000, or $245,000,000 less than had been expected in January.

In other comparisons, he listed the $6,411,000,000 in-the-red showing of a year earlier, and the $9,322,000,000 deficit President Truman had estimated in his final budget would be the deficit on June 30, 1954.

EISENHOWER said in a statement at the White House that progress has been made toward a balanced budget while cutting taxes.

"These fiscal achievements mean a great deal to the American people,"

"ONE—We have made possible a program of tax cuts totaling 7½ billion dollars."

"TWO—We have halted inflation. The purchasing power of the dollar has varied only one-half of one cent in the past 18 months."

"THREE—Our people have new confidence. We are laying a firm base for a healthy and expanding economy for better national security, and for more jobs for more people."

Eisenhower's report indicated that the economic downturn which set in last Summer reduced the government's income by some three billion dollars below the receipts he forecast last January. But the administration meanwhile chopped spending, mainly national security outlays a little more than enough to fit the shrinkage of its purse, by some three and a fourth billion dollars less than the January estimate.

CONSEQUENTLY, the government was able to wind up fiscal 1954 on June 30 with the less-than-expected deficit of $3,029,000,000.

This figure, for the first full fiscal year of the Eisenhower administration, was $6,420,000,000 less than the $9,449,000,000 by which the government overspent its income in the previous fiscal year. Spending during the past 12 months, totaling $67,579,000,000, was $6,695,000,000 below the fiscal 1953 total, and was $10,348,000,000 less than spending outlined by Truman for fiscal 1954.

The government's receipts in fiscal 1954 came to $64,550,000,000, which was $275,000,000 less than the year before and $3,455,000,000 less than Truman forecast.

At a news conference, Stassen also said the United States has agreed with other Western governments to ease East-West trade controls by knocking off some 150 separate items from the master list of commodities and equipment barred from shipment to Russia and its European satellites.

Citizens Contribute 106 Pints Of Blood To County Bank

99 Walk-Ins Among 124 Responding

ONE HUNDRED twenty-four donors offered their blood yesterday in Stroudsburg. Accepted were 106.

The drive yesterday, sponsored by Pocono Jaycees, was marked by one of the biggest groups of "walk-in" donors ever listed—99 of them.

The Jaycees' advance publicity campaign had called public attention to the drive through press and radio and by means of a blood drive parade the night before.

THE PARADE netted at least one donor from as far away as Chicago, Ill.

He was Lawrence Skonieczny, about 25, honeymooning in the Poconos with his bride. The couple were on Main St., Stroudsburg, Wednesday night when the parade went past. They decided right then, they later told Red Cross nurses, it was time for Skonieczny to give a pint.

Last man to give blood for the day was Donald Werkheiser, 1636 N. Fifth St., who came over from Kulp's Foundry. He was the 124th man to offer blood; when he was accepted, his pint became No. 106.

THE 124TH MAN arrived—minutes too late. The doors were shut.

The quota would probably have been exceeded except for one thing: Pocono Highland Camp called to say that the 21 men scheduled to drive to Stroudsburg to give blood could not come. A camper, it was reported, was under observation for measles, and the donors had to remain in camp.

Jaycee Chairman Robert Widmer attributed success of the drive to newspaper and radio publicity, the work of Jaycee blood committee members, and the donors themselves who assumed a full share of their civic responsibilities.

They were typified by Mrs. Murray L. Blutman, 115 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, who walked out of the A&P with an armload of groceries.

She paused and read the signs on the two vehicles parked in front of the Stroudsburg First Presbyterian Church. Then she looked at Jaycee Mac Blevins.

Mrs. Blutman explained she thought she ought to give blood, but she had frozen food in her shopping bag.

The problem was solved by Mrs. Peter Wyckoff, who took the groceries across the street and parked them in a Wyckoff deep-freeze while Mrs. Blutman entered the church and gave a pint of blood.

Organizations which sent groups to give blood included Wyckoff-Sears, The Daily Record, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Ronson of Pennsylvania, Vacation Valley, Camp Lindenmere, Pocono Manor, Pocono Jaycees, and Mrs. Skinner's Inc.

Drive On Small Stills Launched

HARRISBURG (AP)—Enforcement officers of the State Liquor Control Board yesterday began a drive against small-time still operators who brew beverages for their own use or for friends.

Bootlegging in general, said Frederick T. Gelder, board chairman, is being kept under control in Pennsylvania.

However, in reference to the small operators, Gelder said: "You will always find someone doing it—it varies little from year to year."

Large still operators are comparatively easy to catch for it is difficult for them to escape detection, Gelder said.

"It is the man who distills liquor for himself who is hard to find," he said. "But our enforcement officers are always on the watch."

Cool Fronts Bring Relief To More Than Half Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

TWO COOL FRONTS moved across the country yesterday, bringing pleasant weather to more than half of the nation.

The eastern cool air kept temperatures in the 70s and 80s as far south as the southern borders of Virginia and Kentucky.

Cool air from the Pacific, which had covered the Northwest Wednesday, spread eastward into the Northern and Central Plains states.

Gov. Fine Addresses State Legion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's legionnaires whooped up an ovation for Gov. John S. Fine, a comrade himself, as the veterans of two world wars officially began their 36th annual state convention yesterday in an atmosphere of speechmaking and reports.

A shirt-sleeved throng of around 1,500 men and women cheered the governor and Philadelphia's Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr., and stood hatless in the darkened Convention Hall during a half-hour memorial service honoring Pennsylvania's war dead.

The rank-and-file among the 7,500 delegates get their chance to shout for the things they want when the first of more than 80 resolutions is placed on the floor for consideration at today's day-long business meeting.

TODAY, too, is the election of state officers.

Gov. Fine described the truce-partition of Indochina as an "agonizing setback to the free world" and urged the immediate formation of an Asiatic mutual defense community among the free nations of south and east Asia.

He said formation of this pact should have "highest priority" for the defense of the United States and the free world.

Two Youths Injured, Car Demolished

SNYDERSVILLE — A car was demolished and two boys injured last night when the car went out of control here, spun, rolled, and hit a tree.

Admitted to East Stroudsburg General Hospital was Russell Foster, who lives with his uncle, David Hardenstone at 1700 W. Main St., Stroud Township.

Stroudsburg State Troopers Don Henzey and Joseph Murphy said the driver was Thomas A. Butz, 18, of 785 Bryant St., Stroudsburg. Police said he was driving west on Route 209.

THE BUTZ car was going down a hill and around a curve on the approach to the village of Snedersville. Police said it went off the curve, spun counterclockwise down the grade. Then it overturned and slid the last 70 feet on its right side. The car came to rest against a tree several yards from the Route 12 intersection.

Police said the car was demolished, with a loss of about $600.

Bus Forced Off Highway

EFFORT — A Greyhound bus was reportedly put out of commission near the top of Effort Mountain here at 8:50 last night when it ran off the road and jammed against an earth embankment.

A witness said a woman suffered a head cut and bloody nose. She and four other passengers were treated at the office of Dr. John Martocci, Brodheadsville. The bus driver told spectators the bus was forced off the road. Reconstruction along that stretch of Route 115 has been in progress for weeks. A number of accidents have occurred in the area.

The bus passengers were transferred to another Greyhound bus which was called into service. Fern Ridge State police late last night said "a detail is investigating the accident."

FHA Seeking Criminal Action In Connection With Apartment Project Netting Big Profit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee's probe of apartment house builders turned suddenly yesterday to a project now rising within sight of the Capitol Building—and it was disclosed that criminal action is being sought.

Norman P. Mason, acting commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, said the Justice Department had been asked to act in the case of the Arlington Towers apartment development, a 22 million dollar structure described as "one of the nation's largest."

TESTIMONY developed that it is being erected on the Virginia side of the Potomac River by a former restaurant operator and two partners with a cash outlay of $35,000.

There was also testimony that the local FHA office was not aware of all the intricate financial and contractual arrangements when it approved a 16½ million dollar loan for building the project last November.

MASON'S dramatic announcement of possible fraud came after committee investigator Clarence Dinkins testified that a local FHA official told him only a few days ago that the application for FHA insurance of the loan never would have been approved had it not been for "pressure" from Clyde L. Powell.

This was denied by the FHA official, Thomas C. Berringer. Powell was fired as assistant FHA commissioner in charge of the apartment building program after the White House announced a shakeup of the housing agency last April.

THE PRESIDENT of Arlington Towers Corp. is Walter P. McFarland of Arlington, who testified he was in the restaurant business for 20 years before getting into the housing project last year. He said his two associates are John Loughran of McLean, Va., and Edward P. Johnson of Alexandria, Va.

It was testified that an 18 million dollar contract to do the actual construction was awarded to John McShain of Philadelphia, who got the job of reconstructing the White House several years ago under the Truman administration. McShain also has put up several big government buildings.

McFarland told reporters, "there is absolutely no basis whatever for a referral of this matter to the Department of Justice or any other government agency."

Cooperative Membership

Decision of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce directors to give hundreds of individuals in the Poconos an opportunity to participate in Chamber activity through a "cooperative" membership is a very sound move.

Undoubtedly there are many who have been approached for a "full" Chamber membership at $40, who felt they can not afford that much, but would be willing to participate on a $25 basis.

These people benefit from all promotional efforts of the Chamber. They have sound, workable ideas of their own for Chamber activity. They have skills which can be effectively used by the Chamber.

It is proper, and mutually beneficial, for them to become "cooperative" members at $25 a year.

Highway Eyesores

Week by week the Pennsylvania Turnpike and highways in the Poconos and generally around the state are consistently losing one of the initial and most appreciated features of their magnificent settings, that of freedom from advertising.

Each time we drive on the dream highway, pioneer of the many now being built or under study, we see additional evidences of man's determination to get another dollar out of the traveling public. And some of these advertising signboards, we regret to note, are those of big corporations - we would have considered incapable of such greed.

It must be recalled that when the first, basic turnpike mileage was thrown open to public use back in 1940, the commission chairman announced that the highway would not be marred by billboards and that if any were erected outside of the right-of-way owned by the commission they would be promptly screened by the planting of shrubbery.

The boards have been kept off the right-of-way, of course, but the commission has been less successful in blocking the eyesores. Recently Ohio's Supreme Court ruled, properly enough, that the Ohio Turnpike Commission has no right to prevent erection of billboards on land beyond the turnpike right-of-way, which is undeniable and the same as in our own state.

Route 611 in the Poconos had a "vista" area once, but even that has been matted by a mass of signs.

But here in Pennsylvania, the door has been opened and more and more signs are being put in place along highways.

Apparently moral suasion has failed. Some other, more drastic move, is obviously necessary.

George Sokolsky Says...

Good To Be Reminded There Are Those In State Dept. Who Are Normal Humans

Like most others of my ilk - to use an expression so often hurled at me - I frequently write about the State Department and its people. By and large, these past 38 years, I have seen much of those connected with this organization in various parts of the world. Among them have been my best friends; others were routinized despots who pompously bespoke the importance of their positions. However, I go on using the term State Department as though it were something personified, as though all its employees were the same. We sometimes talk of them as cookie-pushers or cast aspersions on their striped trousers.

Recently, I was caught up short while reading Robert T. Oliver's "Why War Came in Korea."

"One thing people forget when they try to discover what ails the State Department is that its employees are individuals pretty much like everyone else. They range in ability from clerks able to earn $1,800 a year to administrators who can command $10,000 or more. They have their prejudices and special interests and their own quota of ignorance. Most of them are not supermen, after all, and some who are have drunk their draught of inspiration from the wrong bottles, but simple family men who want security and a living wage. Some are industrious and some are lazy. Most of them do their assigned work with a decent conscientiousness. Some work their hearts out and ruin their health to serve the needs of this tragic time, and others (like the great bulk of the rest of the citizenry) want to close up their desks when the clock strikes five and go home to their hobbies and their families."

What is true of the State Department is true of the Pentagon, the White House, and every other department of government. Some of their employees are just plain people.

However, in the State Department, if a fellow wonders what he and the wife will do tonight, play Canasta or look at TV, the question must nevertheless arise whether he is sitting over documents which have to be evaluated wisely because the data contained therein may affect national policy of great importance. I have seen many State Department officials in my days in China who wrote brilliant reports which somehow reached the morgue very swiftly. Once put in the dispatch bags to Washington, they were lost or forgotten. I recall one consular official, a young man, who, back in 1925 or 1926, wrote the most complete report on Communist activity in China that anyone had done up to that time. I was called in to read this document. I was then writing articles on this and kindred subjects for the "China Year Book" and was considered something of an expert until the Institute of Pacific Relations gained a monopoly on Far Eastern experts.

But this document must have been handled by one of those $1,800 a year clerks or maybe by the scrub-women, as no one could possibly have read it and believed, as important men did in the 1940's, that these same Communists, trained in schools in Russia and thorough Marxists, were "agrarian reformers."

If anyone committed a crime against the United States in those days, it was the smart young men who invented and propagated the Asopian term, "agrarian reformer," to confuse our policies which have to be evaluated wisely because the data contained therein may affect national policy of great importance. I have seen many State De-

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

Too Many Judge Events By Headlines In Newspapers

One of the mistakes too many people make is to judge the world by newspaper headlines.

Now please don't think that I am criticizing the newspapers for playing up UNUSUAL events to a far-ye-well. That would be biting the hand that feeds me and I have no idea of taking my own breadbasket away from myself.

But ask any editor you know. Without hesitation he will tell you that ORDINARY events receive scant space in newspapers. It is the OUT-OF-THE-ORDINARY that is headlined in big type on the front pages; never the average or ordinary thing that might happen to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

So, if you read about an uprising in Guatemala on your front page, you may be sure that uprisings in Guatemala and anywhere else on our hemisphere are UNUSUAL. In other words they are nothing to be expected or constantly to be feared.

Or if you read about a society woman murdering her husband in cold blood over some other man, that does not mean that ALL women are sex crazy, and a man doesn't have to go to bed at night wondering whether his wife is going to kill him because she is crazy about his friend Jim next door.

It means just the opposite. You can sleep in peace tonight. That big story on Page One meant that it is a very unusual thing for wives to murder their husbands and that there isn't really much to worry about - until stories of that kind get smaller and smaller and are finally stuck away on some page with the market ads. That is the time to worry, because it would show that the crime has become so common that it is no longer considered important news.

Take the matter of divorce. Divorce stories have become so ordinary that a person has to be pretty prominent socially nowadays to get his or her name in the paper with more than a stickful of type.

Years ago, when married people still considered the marriage vow something sacred, a divorce story would be on the front page in big type. Nowadays it's hardly worthwhile for the average movie actress any more to get a divorce for the sake of publicity. A fourth or fifth Hollywood divorce hardly gets more of a write-up nowadays than a burglary of her apartment in which four or five milk coats are stolen.

Here is another example. In an item so small I could hardly find it, there was a story from Washington reporting that Representative C. J. Brown (R.-Ohio) complained that, in spite of the fact that we have spent more than $131 billion on foreign aid since 1940, "we have more enemies and fewer friends now than when we started."

Nothing sensational about that, I admit, but isn't it a tremendously significant thing that we have poured all that money down the drain for nothing?

Doesn't it seem to you that all those recipients of our aid should be thankful to us and appreciate our friendship rather than always suspecting ulterior motives in everything we do?

Or, is it perhaps that friendship is one of the two things that cannot be bought with money? (What is the other? Love.)

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Words of wisdom from an old almanac: Exclusiveness is a characteristic of recent riches, high society, and the slunk.

What passes for woman's intuition is often nothing more than man's transparency. Blessed are those who have nothing to say - and cannot be persuaded to say it.

There are three kinds of lies: lies, damned lies, and statistics. It isn't so much the things we don't know that get us into trouble. It's the things we know that aren't so.

Up in Worcester, 'tis said a housewife came out of the kitchen with a bowlful of white powder and commanded her husband, "Wilbur, sample this and tell me what it tastes like." Wilbur dutifully obeyed instructions, then opined, "It tastes like soda to me." "Exactly what I told that fool cook," exulted the housewife. "She's trying to tell me it's rat poison!"

Boasted Phil Silvers, "I took out a stuffed shirt last night - but on her it looked GOOD!"

Oppenheimer Case Ending Is Still Up In The Air

Washington — There is a personal phase of the dramatic Oppenheimer case that is still hanging fire.

This is what Atomic Chairman Lewis Strauss intends to do about the security-banned scientist's continuing as director of the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

Strauss is head of the trustees of this famed organization. He is displaying explosive touchiness about this question. Efforts to draw him out on it have been sternly rebuffed. Strauss testily refuses to discuss the matter in any way.

Following the Atomic Commission's 4 to 1 decision upholding the Gray Board's ruling that Oppenheimer is a security risk, the noted scientist announced he would remain as Institute director. Final determination of that, however, is up to the board of trustees of which Strauss is president.

The trustees have done nothing. And Strauss won't say whether he, or they, contemplate doing anything. He angrily rebuked a reporter who asked about this.

The newsmen had explained he had been directed by his editor to ascertain from Strauss what position he was taking regarding Oppenheimer's continued employment at the Institute, in view of Strauss' firm stand against him in the security case. Strauss hit the ceiling.

"I am shocked that you would even consider asking such a question," he exclaimed. "It's questions like that which make me so critical of the press. I am not going to answer it."

With that he walked away.

The set-up—One trustee wants it known he favors retaining Oppenheimer at the Institute.

He is Senator Herbert Lehman (D., N. Y.).

"Everything I know about his work there is honorable and outstanding," says Lehman. "He is a brilliant scientist and I am strongly in favor of keeping him. A demand for his removal can be brought up at any time, but I'll fight it if that happens."

Other trustees include Sidney Mitchell, Republican, banker and utility executive; John M. Hancock, Republican, banker and insurance executive; Harold F. Linder, former Assistant Secretary of State; Dr. John Fulton, physiologist and medical historian; Wilmuta Sheldon Lewis, editor and chairman of the Yale Library Association; Lesing Rosendaw, Chicago.

Oppenheimer was questioned about the Institute during the secret hearings of the Gray Board. Following are the highlights of his testimony from the transcript of the proceedings.

"The Institute is not part of Princeton University. It is a separate institution. It has about 130 members who are post-doctoral.

Some of them are youngsters just out of graduate school; others are men of 50 and 60... We have a very good training ground for students in pure mathematics, applied mathematics and theoretical physics. Many of those at the Institute are supported by the U. S. government, others go into work for a limited time for our government.

"We have a number of government undertakings. One of the more interesting is that we seem for the first time to be able to predict cyclogenesis - the generation of storms. This is of practical value, and the government has instituted a program based on the research done at the Institute. We have one other function which I believe to be important at this time. We are, as much as we can be with our limited resources, an open house to scholars throughout the free world, from Europe, Japan, India and elsewhere. I think more than half of our people are from outside the United States.

"I think we do a great deal towards persuading a small fraction of the people abroad that the United States is a humane and civilized place. Programs about the Institute have been carried by the Voice of America and in State Department bulletins. There are many people in the government who are proud of what we are doing, and I am proud of it."

Oppenheimer was asked if the Institute does classified work and uses classified material.

"The Institute has never accepted a classified contract and has never been asked to accept one," he replied. "There is work going on which is very close to classified work, but by the time it is fed into us, it is unintelligible and therefore declassified. Individual members of the Institute have done classified work. I am an obvious example. But that is a matter between the individual and the government."

Oppenheimer disclosed that Strauss had offered him the job of Institute director in 1947.

"Before I accepted," Oppenheimer related, "a number of conversations took place. I told Mr. Strauss there was derogatory information about me... Mr. Strauss told me he had examined it (FBI file) rather carefully. I asked him whether this seemed to him in any way an argument against my accepting this job. He said no, and in April I heard over the radio that I had been appointed."

The testy Nevada bruiser told off Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson when he claimed that a recent test was highly successful. The Nebraskaan did this at a private meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which he was trying to persuade to give civil defense more money. McCarran sharply cut him off.

Minstrels Of 1924 By Elks Stir Memories

Mrs. Muriel Hughes, 115 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg took us way back to the nostalgic days of 1924 yesterday with an old "programme" entitled B. P. O. E. Elks Minstrel Show in which her husband George (Hinky) Hughes was a star performer.

Muriel's sudden decision to dig up the "programme" was alerted by her critical study of a television minstrel staged on the Robert Q. Lewis TV show. She first submitted the old show lineup to Lewis who, after brief reference to his own "cornball" sessions, expressed deep interest in the 1924 Elks show with "how I wish those days were revived."

Think back to 1924 - no war - cold or hot; taxes a lot lower; pay a lot less, but so were prices and everybody seemed to love everybody else and seemed to have time to express it in one way or another.

Incidentally, Muriel sent Mr. Lewis one of those booklets on the Poconos with a suggestion he visit here, instead of going to Europe. And Lewis said he would be here soon... "I bet it's lovely in the Poconos."

But, back to the "programme." Remember who was interlocutor? The listing says "Sam Shull." That was, of course, the late President Judge Samuel Eakin Shull who established himself as one of Pennsylvania's great judges. As Sam Shull, he was one of the boys. As Judge Shull he bore all the dignity and commanded all the respect his high office demanded.

Take a look at some of the other personnel. Hinky, of course, was the "Dancin' Dan." Then the left end men—Herman Brenner and John Pick; right end men—Hinky and Red Calery. In the circle were:

Harry LeBar, Adam Walter, Perry Whitman, Beany Gearhart (Atty. A. Greenwalt Gearhart), Giles Burlingame; Jim Kulp, Harvey Hay, Harold Bossard, Les Whitman, George Metzgar, Paul Shireman and John Harris.

With Carl Oitz as director, the music came from Floyd Achenbach and Harold T. Rinker, violins; Matt Kime, flute; Roy Riday, clarinet; Vernon (Zeke) Gildland, cornet; Foster Van Whyttrou, baritone; Pete Rockefeller, drums; John Harris was director of music and Herman Brenner, director of "comique."

"It all took place the night of March 31, 1924 in the Plaza Theatre and the place was bulging with people.

Mrs. Howard (Hockey's Wife) Drake was the featured toe dancer, with "jazz dance" variations. Russell (Dotter) Williams was featured saxophone soloist.

Bob Shuck, Phil Claxton and G. Leon Kennedy were starred in a routine called "Daily Dances" and Allen Post had a top spot in "Something New In Music."

We heartily agree with Robert Q. Lewis "how I wish those days were revived."

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Medal For A Minstrel

You can't get much on the gold medal which President Eisenhower has been authorized by Congress to strike off in honor of Irving Berlin. So to accompany it we propose the following:

To a weaver of spells, a builder of dreams and a singer of songs of love and patriotism. To a man who symbolizes the American tradition of triumph over poverty. To a guy who could bring great tunes from the depths of personal struggle and anguish. To a kid whose heart tinkled an accompaniment to the psalms of eternal happiness, even in the bleakness of a ghetto, a teeming street and the darkest of alleys.

To an O. Henry of the piano, a Keats of the music sheets and a Francis Scott Key of our critical hours. To an Asop of Tin Pan Alley and a Hans Christian Andersen of the black and white keys. To a living refutation of those cynics who blame "under-privilege" for failure and nicely charge the slums, overburdened parents and bad breaks for the untaught vision, the faint-hearted pursuit of a cherished goal and the incapacity to reach for the stars. To a child of immigrants, who in the squalor of the aEst Side found the virtues of the poet, the minstrel and the companion of lovers everywhere.

To a Broadway tyro who began with the frivolous "Marie of Sunny Italy," "Yiddle on the Fiddle," "Sadie Salome, Go Home" and "Everybody's Doing It," and soared to the tender beauty of "All Alone By the Telephone," "They Say That Falling In Love Is Wonderful," "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody" and "When I Lost You."

To a spirit that could climb from "Dorinda," a comedy number about an Italian Marathion runner, to "Dancing Cheek to Cheek" and "Always." To a heartbeat that could attune itself to "Alexander's Rag Time Band" and the Negro spiritual "Down To The River." To a member of the Jewish faith who could contribute "White Christmas" as one of the most heart-warming Christian songs of Yuletide. To a man whose tunes and lyrics came to be wafted across the still waters and the green pasture of the earth to add to the spell of moonlight nights, boy-meets-girl moods of youth and reveries of the middle aged and the old. To a composer who began with the capricious "My Brudder Sylvester" and worked up to the great and moving melodies of American life... to a fellow who, while men in high position quibbled over prayer and the proper expression of patriotism in the public schools, gave both a prayer and a national anthem in "God Bless America" to the kids of the country.

To one who made people sing, dance and dream in a world where so many men contribute to hatred, envy, dissension and death... to a tunesmith who could bring a "Darling, do you remember that one?" to halt an interlude of anger and bitterness in a disturbed home, and set a quarreling couple to humming a song they knew as young lovers. To a man whose melodies have lightened the heart of the toiler, cheered the imprisoned and brought from the sick the whisper "Play me that one again."

To a guy who, as a singing waiter in a Bovey bar, could look hardship "In the kisser" and make it dance to his sense of rhythm. To Irving Berlin, poet, minstrel, patriot and fine citizen any way you look at him... or listen!

Old-car derbies are a fad and we have read of one in New Jersey in which the exhibits included a Cord, a Nash, a Franklin, a LaSalle and a Pierce-Arrow.

Attention of: Mr. Horace Heller, Editor

Dear Horace:

In regard to the July 21 edition of the Daily Record, concerning the meeting held at the Indian Queen Hotel, I would like to have a clarification of the statement that was supposedly made by me, which is incorrect.

The statement was "That I and two other influential men were going to Harrisburg to see what we could do."

As I said, this is incorrect. However, I did say two other men and I was going to Harrisburg in regard to other matters, and if we could get any good ideas or suggestions that would be beneficial to the subject in question, we would report them at the next meeting.

I would also like to say that I made no comments or statements about the Bypass or Route 611, except that I was very much interested if the Bypass was carried too far out of Stroudsburg, and I thought that all the facilities that we have should be utilized to the utmost, before any definite decision was made.

I do not want anyone to misconstrue any statements that were made at this meeting. I think it was well in order, and surely within our rights as property owners and businessmen on Route 611 to meet and express our opinions. As far as I know that is all that did happen, at this particular meeting.

Yours very truly

Upper Delaware Pollution Almost Nil, According To Study By Five Agencies

"THE IMPORTANCE of the upper Delaware for water supply is such that the quality of these waters must be further improved and protected at all costs and external vigilance must be maintained," said James H. Allen, executive secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (Incedel) yesterday.

Allen released a report on pollution control in the upper Delaware prepared cooperatively by Incedel, the States of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey and the U. S. Public Health Service.

He emphasized a statement in the report that "the waters of the entire Delaware Basin north of Trenton are generally of good quality and are relatively unpolluted except for certain localized conditions in some areas," but cautioned that the battle for further improvement must continue.

FORMER POLLUTION conditions that existed on the lower Lehigh River and on the Delaware below Port Jervis and Easton have been corrected to a large extent according to a cooperative State-Federal report on water pollution control, the fourth of a series on the Delaware River Basin being prepared under authority of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1948.

The Delaware River Basin Zone 1 report, issued by the U. S. Public Health Service and released yesterday by Incedel, describes the status of the water pollution control programs conducted by the New Jersey State Department of Health, Bureau of Environmental, Sanitation, the New York Department of Health and its Water Pollution Control Board, the Sanitary Water Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and Incedel in the area above Trenton.

It sets forth information about the ways the water resources of the area are used, the pollution entering those water resources and the resulting damages, the benefits which may result from pollution prevention and abatement, pollution measures in effect, and those which appear to be needed.

THE REPORT indicates that the program is well under way toward the elimination of all pollution discharges which do not meet the Incedel standards and that the U. S. Public Health Service feels the coordinated efforts have produced effective results. It recommends that the States and Incedel continue their cooperative program.

The drainage area tributary to Zone 1, which is the area covered by the report, extends from the headwaters in the Catskill Mountains of New York to Trenton, N. J., and covers about 6850 square miles. The region includes portions in southern New York State, northwestern New Jersey and northeastern Pennsylvania with a population of about 822,700 in 1950.

The principal uses of the upper Delaware River are for water supply, after such treatment or purification as may be necessary, and for recreation, bathing, maintenance of fish and aquatic life, agriculture and other related purposes. It has been estimated that by 1980 two billion gallons of water daily may be required from the Delaware and its tributaries to meet domestic demands, with the supply to come principally from headwater reservoir development.

THE REPORT points out that facilities for treating sewage are now provided at 214 of the 287 municipal sources of pollution which discharge to the streams of Zone 1. Those 214 sewage treatment plants handle wastes of some 419,000 population in the communities and resorts of the area. At present, the raw wastes from 73 municipal sewer systems serving some 54,000 population are still discharged untreated to watercourses.

Represented largely in this latter group are many small, unsewered communities in New York and Pennsylvania which need sewer systems as well as treatment facilities to correct their pollution problems. "The industrial picture shows that 53 of the 83 establishments which discharge wastes to the streams in the area provide treatment facilities. Since World War Two, 138 municipal sewage treatment plants and 21 industrial waste treatment facilities have been built. These have relieved almost all of the more significant pollution conditions that were previously existing in the basin. However, new or improved facilities are still needed for 91 municipal sewer systems serving about 100,000 population and for 38 industrial plants. Planning and construction now under way will remedy much of this need.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCES DRAKE

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—The major planets in your ranking positions. The all you can make this a "red letter" day in your calendar. Industrial matters, new and established businesses, professional pursuits favored.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Things you want to do for a long time. New ideas to try out? Here's a reasonable day for them and all regular activities as well. You on vacation should enjoy it.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Mental activities and activities are favored this fine day. If you direct energies purposefully you should secure a big reward.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—This is a day for getting ahead in worthwhile matters. You have capability, talent, good judgment, ambition and high hopes. Use all today.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Handling tools, machinery, minerals, chemicals, and the like can be profitable, advantageous. The day holds promise for money and varied lines of endeavor.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Some splendid influences for large and small businesses, for personal and general interests. You should find helpful aids whichever way you turn.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Favorable to Venus, auspicious here today. Keep spirits high and health good to enjoy this generous day. Make your fun for a happy week and with family, good friends.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—A brisk, encouraging and perhaps exciting day. You can have a satisfying and progressive time of it if you apply yourself in your capable, smart way. No worrying; push ahead with faith.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—You will, should, feel enterprising, raring to go. Fine prospects for business, worthwhile matters and for vacation activities, personal and health interests.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Well-run business and financial transactions are given encouragement, also purely personal interests. This is a promising day for good deeds and good people. Don't fail your better self.

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—While the day on the whole is stimulating and benefic, you are advised not to go to extremes or endanger health or other valuable assets by recklessness. Enjoy some diversion.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Take sensible precautions in winter sports, using leverages, handling oils, chemicals. Otherwise the day is generally fine for routine duties, also for intimate and professional matters.

YIP, DOES TODAY have character. Taken from both Cancer and Leo as the Sun was leaving the one Sign to enter the other at your birth. You can be a very interesting, intriguing somebody with your many talents and general capability. Curb a tendency to over-sensitiveness and to argue needlessly. You are innately reliable, clever in business and profession, and attain truly great heights if you apply yourself assiduously to your life's work. Pray when troubled, in doubt, AND in thanksgiving.

Wheat Growers Vote Today On Market Quotas

HARRISBURG (AP) — A state official last night predicted a better showing than 1953 when Pennsylvania wheat growers take part today in a national referendum on federal marketing quotas for the 1955 crop.

Only 17 per cent of the eligible voters took part in a similar referendum last year.

"We think a lot more will turn out this year because of the greater interest in quotas and because they affect a lot of people," said C. E. Cassel, Hershey, Cassel is chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee which conducts the vote.

AN ESTIMATED 17,000 farmers who plant enough wheat to harvest 15 acres next year are eligible to take part in the day-long balloting. If two-thirds of the voters in the country approve quotas they will be put into effect and price supports will be available to all farmers who comply with their wheat acreage and other allotments.

No matter what the state votes Pennsylvania farmers will be ruled by the national outcome.

Pennsylvania, 18th ranked wheat growing state in the nation, has been given a 1955 wheat acreage allotment of 639,371, or $4,000 under last year's figure.

CASSEL SAID that this reduction, a result of the national allotment figure being lowered, caused the drop from 18,500 to an estimated 17,000 eligible voters in Pennsylvania this summer.

Farmers in 60 counties, all but Cameron and Wayne, are eligible. The 1953 referendum resulted in imposition of marketing quotas for the first time in 11 years.

Doctors Claim Deal Sought By Haluska

EBENSBURG (AP) — Doctors at Miners' Hospital in nearby Spangler yesterday said they were asked to pay $6,500 to $10,000 to State Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) for his removal as hospital administrator.

The doctors made the charge in a petition filed in Cambria County Court asking visiting Judge John J. Pentz of Clearfield County to set aside a court order preventing the doctors from walking off the job at the hospital. The doctors had threatened to quit July 15 because of a controversy with Haluska. Judge Pentz's order banned them from doing so.

IN THE PETITION for a rehearing on the ban, the doctors charged they received three propositions for settlement of the dispute from Atty. Arnold D. Smorto, hospital counsel, and Richard Todhunter Jr., chairman of the board of trustees.

The alleged proposition, the petition stated, were made to Atty. J. Harrison Westover, the medical staff's lawyer.

The petition listed the three alleged propositions as:

(ONE)—If the dispute is settled and Haluska is dropped as administrator then the doctors should pay his salary of $3,000 plus $3,500 in attorney and investigators' fees with cross-releases executed.

(TWO)—If Haluska is dropped as administrator and an incorporator of the hospital then the doctors will pay him a flat sum of $10,000.

(THREE)—If the hospital pays Haluska's salary and legal fees of $6,500, then Haluska will release the hospital from any right of action he may have against it but he reserves the right to proceed against the medical staff. But in such case he will not yield his right as an incorporator.

The petition also stated that Richard Todhunter Jr., board chairman, promised the doctors on July 15 that if Haluska didn't resign within seven days the board would fire him.

Before the petition for the 16 doctors was filed, a newsmen talked to Judge Pentz at Clearfield. The judge said he knew about the petition and would hold a hearing on it next Tuesday at Ebsburg.

Pet Parade, Doll Parade At Carnival

Tannersville—The Pet Parade held in conjunction with the Firemen's Carnival at the Pocono Township Firehouse on Monday night had 29 entries and included dogs, cats, chipmunks, rabbits, baby bantam chicks, gold fish and canaries.

Prizes of $1.50 for the first, $1 for the second prize, and 50 cents for the third prize were awarded in the following classifications:

For the largest four-legged pet—First, Marilyn Smith, large white dog; second, Nancy Bessecker, collie; third, Steven Andre, collie.

For the smallest four-legged pet—First, Judy Singer, chipmunk; second, David Larn, kittens; and Cathy Jo Werkheiser, kittens, third prize.

For the largest two-legged pet—First, Clyde Curtis, bantam; second, Billy Bessecker, bantam; third, Susan Scharf, canary.

Smallest two-legged pet—First, Billy Bessecker, 13 baby bantams; second, Susan Scharf, canary; third, Clyde Curtis, canary.

Most unusual pet—Gladys Metzger, gold fish. Best dressed pet—dog, Eleanor Tucker.

Pet with longest ears—Brian Marek, dog. Pet with most colors—Larry Lotz, dog. Best trained pet—Billy Newhart, cocker spaniel. Best groomed pet—Mary Lou Tice, pomeranian.

Judges for the pet parade were George Larn Jr., Rodger Shook and John Lehmann.

On Tuesday night, at the carnival, a doll parade was held with 34 entries, including bride dolls, wedding parties, doll families, best dressed, oldest and most unusual.

The following awards were made: For the prettiest decorated carriage or float, Joy Miller, first; Gail Gravatt, second prize; and Debbie Bloss, third.

For the best dressed doll—First prize, Barbara Leopold; Beverly Hay, second; and Patty Brader, third.

For the largest doll family—15 dolls in each family, a tie between Nancy Bessecker and Judy Horst.

Most unusual doll was a Czechoslovakian, entered by Emma Peechak; smallest doll, Dottie Niering; oldest doll, Gladys Metzger, whose doll was 54 years old.

Prettiest doll wedding parties—First, Joy Miller, on a decorated float, with a complete bridal party, all dressed in hand-crocheted outfits; second prize, Catherine Shick, with another big entry.

Prettiest bride doll—First, Sharon Canfield; second, Mary Tranne; third, Eleanor Tucker.

Judges for the doll show were Mrs. Estelle Granacher, Mrs. Monroe Granacher and Mrs. Ella Bishop. The committees in charge of these two special features of the carnival and Mrs. Elsie Bessecker, in charge of the doll parade, wish to thank everyone for their cooperation, and this includes the judges, also.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Oh, I remember your wedding—that's when—" the conversation usually starts, and then they continue, usually with something that happened that wasn't supposed to happen. Our particular one is "that was the hottest day I ever remember."

However, most of the circumstances are far less grueling to look back on than the one that followed Richard and Julia Banks' wedding last weekend, with the state police paging them through Canada to tell them of the accident which took the life of his Aunt Ada had on the way home to Stroudsburg.

However, all's well that ends well, and both invalids are preparing to come home in state by ambulance some time this week, but it did make a hectic honeymoon. And explains why the story of the wedding got on "Tuesday," the picture on "Thursday," and why we've still got some very important details that never were included.

One of which is the fact that the bride, Julia Walker, is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Mary Turn Blair of Stroudsburg, Caroline's daughter, you remember.

And another is the fact that she not only attended Beaver College but was graduated from Eastern Medical College.

Well, anyway it's all been pretty drastic. But you anything, though, that Miss Banks has been keeping a comparative eye on the nursing techniques at Ellenville as compared with our own General Hospital.

And Lovell Banks would be amazed to know how quick and deep was the concern which spread all up and down Main Street. Be good to have them both home where they belong.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook each Saturday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 9:15 a.m.

Local People See Uranium Digging In Utah

Delaware Water Gap—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, Miss Camille Buzzard, of Water Gap, and Mrs. Buzzard's mother, Mrs. Richard Manhart, of Catskill, N.Y., have returned from a two-weeks automobile trip through the West.

In Utah, they reported, they saw the uranium diggings and the influx of people into the town after a uranium strike. In Kanab, Utah, they talked with folks who had just made uranium strikes and had been digging in them that day.

The group also saw their first mule deer in the Kaibab National Forest in Arizona, and the rare white-tailed deer found nowhere else in the world except the north rim of the Grand Canyon and the Kaibab plateau north of it.

In Salt Lake City, the Buzzards who are ardent wrestling fans, went to the Coliseum to see in person four wrestling stars they had watched on television.

Baby Shower Is Held For Mrs. Sebring

A baby shower was held for Mrs. Betty Sebring at 121 Ridge-way St., East Stroudsburg on Friday night given by Mrs. Pauline Snyder and Mrs. Mary Sebring.

Those attending were Mrs. Helen Shaffer, Mrs. Bessie Houser, Mrs. Lewis Sebring, Mrs. Howard Sebring, Mrs. Forrest Sebring, Mrs. Robert Sebring, Mrs. Martin Bunnam, Mrs. George Sebring Jr., Mrs. Chester Sebring, Mrs. Willard Angleny, Mrs. William Martin and children, George and Dawn, Mrs. Clinton Rinker, Mrs. Elmer Rice, Mrs. Harold Getz, Mrs. Ruth Bird, Mrs. Mabel Metzger, Mrs. Lucy Rowe, Mrs. Mildred Horst, Miss Eleanor Sebring, Ervin Snyder, Theodore Sebring Jr., the guest of honor, Mrs. Betty Sebring and the hostesses, Mrs. Mary Sebring and Mrs. Pauline Snyder.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. Pat Frantz, Mrs. George Sebring Sr., Mrs. Elmer Goucher and Mrs. Elmer Munch.

The sixth meeting of the summer for the Chipperettes 4-H Club was held at the home of Joan Hester. The hostess had the program for the day in which she showed how her bedroom had been re-decorated. It is in the Early American style with knotty pine walls. The door is a Dutch door with big black hinges. A single bed, desk, rocking chair, dressing table and four-legged stool made up the furnishings. The curtain and stool cover are a dark green.

Joan had wall shelves for her small dolls, and there were two braided rugs on the floor which her mother had made. The girls agreed it was a very nice room.

Afterwards, they all sewed on their dresses. Jane Layton and Sharon Fabel sewed the interfacing on the bodices, while Diane Colvin and Joan Hester sewed the pleats in the skirts, under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLaren.

Games were played under the direction of Jane Layton and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Diane Colvin, who will have the Show-and-Tell program.

Mrs. Fred Miller Is Honored On Her Birthday

Tannersville—Mrs. Fred Miller, who has been recuperating at her home after an operation a few weeks ago, was the guest of honor at a small birthday party held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Melvin, Green Street, on Sunday, July 18.

Guests included Mrs. Grace Rinehart, Howard Singer, Mr. and Mrs. William Clugston, Robert Clugston, Mrs. Hattie Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Robert Miller and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melvin, who served refreshments, including a birthday cake. Mrs. Miller received many gifts and cards.

St. John's Picnic At Lake Mineola

The largest attendance in recent years marked the annual picnic and outing of St. John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday at Lake Mineola. Virtually all the picnic tables were in use by the picnickers.

During the afternoon boating and swimming occupied most of the time. Busses conveyed the picnickers from the church to the picnic grounds.

Following the supper, games and contests were held under the direction of the committee, with Richard Fredenberg in charge. The peanut hunt for children of the nursery and beginners department was won by David Buck and Karen Stabenow, the soup bean race was won by George Stabenow and "Meme" Mikels. The gum-drop chewing contest for the Junior and Intermediate department was won by Jeffery Bush and Charleen Widmer; the Bean throwing contest was won by Robert Kitchen and Uta Meinecke and the honey-moon race for adults was won by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long.

The oldest lady in attendance was Mrs. Jeannette Wilson; the oldest man was Frank Sprague; and the youngest baby was Jennifer Shook two months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Shook. The prize for the largest family in attendance went to the Henry Buck family.

Lady Reindeer List Events

A benefit party, sponsored by the Lady Reindeer will be held tonight at 8 in the POS of A Hall, South Sixth Street in Stroudsburg.

The local lodge will hold installation of officers at their regular meeting on Monday night, which will also be held at the POS of A Hall at 8 o'clock. A covered dish supper will be served after the installation.

Name Chairmen Of Cafeteria For Antique Show

Chairmen of the cafeteria to be conducted by the General Hospital Auxiliary in conjunction with the annual Antique Show for the benefit of the General Hospital of Monroe County were named at a planning session held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Marsh, co-chairman of the cafeteria committee.

Mrs. George Hauser, chairman, presided at the meeting when plans for menus and for committees were discussed. The cafeteria, serving light lunches as well as sandwiches and other refreshments, will be in operation the four days of the Antique Show, August 3 through 6. It will be held in the basement of the Armory in East Stroudsburg where the Antique Show is held.

Tuesday's co-chairmen will include Mrs. Nathan Meyer and Mrs. W. Grady Moore; Wednesday's, Mrs. Fred Davis and Mrs. Eli Travis; Thursday, Mrs. Russell Cramer and Mrs. F. Lynn Lantz; and Friday, Mrs. George Marsh and Miss Bess Gardner. They will be assisted by committees of the members of the auxiliary.

The planning committee also named the cashiers for the four days: Mrs. Henry Tucker, Mrs. William Gorman, Mrs. H. O. Kester.

A program of games and entertainment has been planned for the afternoon with Clarence Seip, past grand Tall Cedar, as chairman of the entertainment committee.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"What about your gift wrap center?" a correspondent queries. "Do you charge for every package wrapped?" No, no, a thousand times NO. How on earth do these ideas get around? Wyckoff purchases will be gift wrapped absolutely free of charge, if the customer is content with our plain white paper and a shiny paper ribbon or our usual gray and black paper ribbon. If a more elaborate wrapping is desired, there is a charge depending upon the size of the box. There is a choice of numerous papers, many of them very elaborate and satiny, and also a variety of bows, some very ornate. Our gift wrap service also provides special "butterfly" boxes for baby parcels, and beautiful ribbon lilies that are perfect for bridal shower gifts. But at all times, the customer has the final say as to whether her purchase will be wrapped free of charge, or whether she will pay. Her choice, naturally, sets the price.

Many of her Wyckoff friends are urging Anna Nitraster to enter the Junior Jinx contest. Anne seems a natural, with her friendly smile and sunny personality. A graduate of Stroudsburg High School this past June, she is a part time employee, who can't decide which she prefers—her hours in the gift wrap center or the time spent in gifts. It seems our customers approve of her wherever she is. . . . One of the busiest persons in our store, is Anna Haller, section manager over four of our main floor departments. We noticed her setting up a new display of brass yesterday, and it is beautiful. Whether you choose the giant candlesticks or the smaller candelabra, brass will add a bright spot to any room in the house. . . . Rather startling it was to be carrying on a telephone conversation a few moments ago, and have a fairly good idea interrupted by a very decisive "That'll never work." My unannounced critic was a worker, perched on the scaffolding outside and peering into the room. I was reminded of Mother's advice when I was very young, "Don't ever think you can get away with anything—someone always sees you." And isn't it true? Someone always does. . . . These are "markdown days" at Wyckoff's. Have you noticed all the gift items on our center aisle clearance table? Vases, silent butlers, planters, figurines, and just about everything else in the gift line. And have you noticed the newly arrived plastic trees in both silver and gold that you decorate for Christmas with ornaments that simply rest on the curved branches? Christmas tree, oh Christmas tree! . . . Who is Mr. Cringell, the meek little man of yesterday's radio program, a listener demands by telephone. "Was that John Meunier?" another probes. Sorry, I'm not telling, beyond exonerating John. I do love Mr. Cringell though—don't you? His heart is always in the right place, but he surely doesn't keep his wife in hers. . . . A Saturday night chat with Edna Harmon of our jewelry department reveals that she has more names than anyone else I know. She was Madeline on her birth certificate, was christened Edna, and her best friends call her "Peg." The nickname began in school. I understand, when she hobbled around in a cast for a time. But whatever you call her, she certainly is a gem at selecting stock. Our catalog accessories for summer and all the unusual earrings and such, convince me that ours is the finest selection of jewelry to be found anywhere in town. . . . The sauciest swim sets in our store are for the very tiny folk, and you'll find them in our children's department. What a figure they can cut at an age when they needn't care!

Arts-Crafts Show Slated At Milford

MILFORD—A meeting of members of the Pike County Arts and Crafts Committee was held at the home of Mrs. James Bryce, to conclude preparation for the third summer exhibition, to be held on the afternoon and night of July 29, 30 and 31 in the Presbyterian Church.

Object of this committee is to stimulate the exhibiting of pictures and other handwork so that artists may meet in their mutual interests and that their creations may be seen by the public; also to show how occupied for pleasing results persons can be in this and nearby localities. The area for contributors includes 50 miles in any direction from Pike County borders.

PROFESSIONAL and amateur workers in either division—painting or crafts—are invited to exhibit. Anyone desiring to be represented in this year's show for the first time may learn particulars from Mrs. Bryce or Mrs. K. M. Deputy in Milford.

Visitors will be interested in seeing the weaving produced by Miss Rambler of Lake Ariel, at her modern loom. Other crafts include woodwork, bead work, embroidery, tape, leather, lace, worsted products, also sculpture, black and white drawings or engravings, brass or copper panels, and paintings in oil or water color.

Vietnamese Picket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pickets marched in front of the White House yesterday carrying signs protesting the partition of Viet Nam. A member of the picketing group said it consisted of 20 Vietnamese who are students or former students in this country.

Dr. J. L. Rumsey will be out of town July 18 to August 1, inclusive. Adv.

Mary Ann Woodyatt Latest Entry In Contest To Find Pocono-Junior Jinx Winner

MARY ANN WOODYATT, of East Stroudsburg, is the latest local contestant in the Miss Pocono-Junior Jinx contest being conducted by Shawnee Inn and The Daily Record in conjunction with Tex and Jinx McCarty and the National Broadcasting Co.

Mary Ann, who is 19, stands 5 feet 4 inches and weighs 115 pounds. She is active in all sports and is anxious to start in radio and TV. Miss Woodyatt is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, class of 1963.

THE MISS POCONO-Junior Jinx contest is to find a girl interested in a radio-TV career. She must be 21 years of age or under, good looking enough to model, sports-minded enough to play tennis and swim gracefully, poised enough to wear fashionable clothes, and she must have the enthusiasm, intelligence and curiosity necessary to be trained as a television reporter.

A flying start in a radio-TV career, with a contract for personal appearances, worth at least five thousand dollars in a one year period, and a two-week all expense paid vacation to El Rancho Vegas via TWA will be awarded the winner of the "Junior Jinx" contest.

East Stroudsburg Captures Playoff From Stroudsburg, 8-0

Gerard Blanks Rival On Five Hits

East Stroudsburg advanced over its second hurdle on the path to a District Four Little League championship last night by blanking Stroudsburg on the former's home field, 8-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Jimmy Gerard.

Although the game was played at East Stroudsburg, Stroudsburg won the right to serve as the home team.

But, East Stroudsburg, winner of Bangor on Monday, held the upper hand throughout the contest and earned the right to meet McAdoo in a third round game at East Stroudsburg on Monday.

Bill Bond brought the large crowd to its feet in the very first inning when the East Stroudsburg right fielder powered the ball over the fence following a double by Evan Reese. This blow gave Eastburg a 2-0 lead which increased as the game progressed.

Bounces Back

East Stroudsburg batted right back with a singleton in the second on successive doubles by Doug Diamond and Reese.

All was quiet until the fifth when East Stroudsburg battered two hurlers before Frank Scagliati came on the scene to put out the fire and hold East Stroudsburg in check the remainder of the distance.

East Stroudsburg combined hits, walks and Stroudsburg errors to put the game on ice with the big blow in the top of the fifth.

Gerard, who also hit safely three times in four trips to the plate, limited Stroudsburg to five hits, four singles and a double by Ronnie Bergman. Gerard retired nine batters on strikes and didn't give up a single walk.

Only one East Stroudsburg batter failed to join in the attack against Stroudsburg which accounted for 15 hits. John Carson and Billy Schoonover were treated roughly before Scagliati put an end to the hitting antics.

East Stroudsburg might have won by an even larger score if it hadn't been for two brilliant catches in left field by Barry Hubert.

East Stroudsburg hasn't allowed the opposition a run in playoff competition thus far, as Charley Lupin blanked Bangor last Monday.

Clothiers Eliminate Dinermen, 5-3

Ted Getz Clothier eliminated Al Beseker's Diner from the Monroe County Softball League tournament last night by a 5-3 count at Stroudsburg Playground.

The Clothier nine won sports a record of one win and a single defeat, while Beseker's club suffered its second loss which means elimination from further play.

It appeared as if the Dinermen were in the battle to stay when they scored three times in the first inning, but Henry "Frank" Stetler blanked Beseker's club the remainder of the distance.

Gain Lead

While Stetler was pitching shut-out ball his mates pecked away at a pair of Beseker pitchers to earn a victory.

Getz's club tallied twice in the first, two more times in the third and added an insurance tally in the fourth.

The Clothier contingent won despite five errors in the field. The winning contingent held a 9-8 edge in hits.

Monday's schedule sends Ted Getz Clothier and Empire Box into battle at Stroudsburg Playground, while the Eagles and Kelper's Laundry tangle on Gordon Giffels field. No tournament games are scheduled today.

Tuesday's slate pits Jack's Market and Kulp's Foundry, only undefeated teams in the tournament, against each other at Stroudsburg Playground. The winners of Monday's game meet at Giffels field on Tuesday.

Shawnee Entry Bows Out Of Further PGA Tournament Play

St. Paul—Stan Dudas, popular assistant golf pro from Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., was eliminated from further National Professional Golfers Association tournament play yesterday when his two-day qualifying total reached 155, eight strokes over the cutoff mark.

Dudas toured the Keller Club course in 78 yesterday after qualifying a 77 in the opening qualifying round on Wednesday.

Ed "Porky" Oliver, the portly, sharp-shooting jester from Lemont, Ill., reluctantly won the low qualifying medal with a 36-hole score of 136, six under par.

"I don't want it—somebody take it quick," the 220-pound funder said after bracketing a one-under-par 79 to his opening 66 over the par 71 course.

"They can have the low medal and the $250 that goes with it. This thing is a job. I'd rather sleep tonight."

Oliver barely beat out Jackie Burke Jr. and Cary Middlecoff, a pair of playing partners from Kiamisha Lake, N.Y., for the prize. Burke shot a 69 and Middlecoff a 68 to wind up in a tie at 137.

The red-hot Sam Snead, favorite stiff-necked golf great, squeaked into the championship bracket with a second straight 73 for 146—one stroke below the 147 cutoff point. Sam's putting was wretched.

U.S. Open Champion Ed Furgol qualified comfortably at 140 after shooting a steady 71 and the defending PGA titleholder, Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., showed the boys he was still around by firing a four-under-par 67 for 141. Burkemo was exempt from qualifying.

Lowest Card

The 67 was matched by Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y. The best card of the day was turned in by Argentina's Roberto DeVicenzo who shot a 66 for 139.

Burkemo heads a field of 64 survivors who began head-to-head match play battling today. Two 18-hole rounds are on the first day's program, followed by 36-hole matches daily until Tuesday's final.

Scores of other Pennsylvanians in addition to Dudas include:

Victor Chelito, New Kensington, 80-73-153.

William J. Moran, Irwin, 79-73-152.

Andy Gasper, Pittsburgh, 76-79-155.

Tom Blaskovich, Connellsville, 78-74-152.

Stroudsburg Divides Two Swim Meets

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Stroudsburg Playground for the second straight day broke even in a pair of swimming meets with Camp Miller yesterday, here in the camp pool.

Miller won the meet for 15-year-olds and under, 21-11, but Stroudsburg won the 13-year-old and under, 21-13.

Dave Shook opened the older meet with a victory in the 25-yard crawl, while Bob Redell and Henry Hensberger finished second and third, respectively, for Miller. Redell came right back to win the 25-yard backstroke, while Shook was second and Kieffer, Miller, third.

Bob Giffman, Miller, won the 25-yard breaststroke while Shook was second and Buck Grote, Miller, finished third. Camp Miller won the 75-yard medley relay race.

Youngsters

Dick Everett won the 25-yard crawl for 13-year-olds while Stroudsburg teammate Bob Grand will be second. Camp Miller's Jones was third. Jim Leslie, Miller, was first in the 25-yard backstroke, while Kieffer and Everett were second and third, respectively. Stroudsburg's Pugh was first in the 25-yard breaststroke, with Grote and Hawkins, both of Miller, rounding out the first three. Stroudsburg won the 75-yard medley relay.

Two events were held for 10-year-olds and under. DeVito, Burnett and Warren Loney finished one, two, three for Stroudsburg in the 25-yard crawl. Camp Miller's Brinkley was fourth. Somers, Davies and Martin, all of Stroudsburg, finished in that order in the 25-yard breaststroke. Brinkley was fourth.

Clothiers Eliminate Dinermen, 5-3

Ted Getz Clothier eliminated Al Beseker's Diner from the Monroe County Softball League tournament last night by a 5-3 count at Stroudsburg Playground.

The Clothier nine won sports a record of one win and a single defeat, while Beseker's club suffered its second loss which means elimination from further play.

It appeared as if the Dinermen were in the battle to stay when they scored three times in the first inning, but Henry "Frank" Stetler blanked Beseker's club the remainder of the distance.

Gain Lead

While Stetler was pitching shut-out ball his mates pecked away at a pair of Beseker pitchers to earn a victory.

Getz's club tallied twice in the first, two more times in the third and added an insurance tally in the fourth.

The Clothier contingent won despite five errors in the field. The winning contingent held a 9-8 edge in hits.

Monday's schedule sends Ted Getz Clothier and Empire Box into battle at Stroudsburg Playground, while the Eagles and Kelper's Laundry tangle on Gordon Giffels field. No tournament games are scheduled today.

Tuesday's slate pits Jack's Market and Kulp's Foundry, only undefeated teams in the tournament, against each other at Stroudsburg Playground. The winners of Monday's game meet at Giffels field on Tuesday.

Fourth Ward Protects Record

Bangor—Fourth Ward protected its undefeated record in the Bangor Little League last night with a 24-1 victory over Bangor A. A., behind the pitching of Jack Falco. Mollie and Gleim divided the losing mound job. Lewis Joella and Bob Ferris homered in a winning game.

Deadlock

First Ward and Second Ward battled to a 7-7 deadlock in a game halted by darkness. Frank Jennings pitched for the First Ward and Simon Blahut was on the mound for Second Ward.

Marketeers Protect Perfect Record By Downing Eagles, 9-2

Jack's Market protected its perfect record in the Monroe County Softball League tournament last night by inflicting a 9-2 setback to the Eagles at Gordon Giffels field.

The Marketeers, winner of the first half championship in regular league play, constructed a 7-0 advantage before the Eagles were able to score last night.

By winning Jack's contingent joined Kulp's Foundry as the only team in the tournament field with two victories and no defeats. Last night's loss evened the "Eagles" record at one win and a single defeat.

Advantage

The first half title holder jumped off with two runs in the first inning and was in complete control the remainder of the distance.

Jack's forces made certain of victory with two counters in the third, three in the fifth and two in the seventh.

The Eagles escaped a shytout with two markers in the bottom of the sixth.

A total of seven errors were committed in the game, four by the Eagles and three by Jack's Market. The winning club held a 12-2 advantage in hits, as Marc Decker stopped the Eagles with a pair of strikes.

Pocono Lions Run Wild Over Barrett

Mountainhome — Pocono Lions put on a demonstration of power baseball here at Siglin field last night and rolled to a 19-6 Pocono Little League verdict over Barrett Lions.

Pocono, Lions, one of the circuit powers, scored four times in the first and six in the third to take a commanding lead which grew even larger in the late innings.

Late Rush

The visiting Pocono contingent wound up its scoring with three counters in the fifth and six in the top of the sixth and final inning.

Barrett trailed by only one run after scoring three times in the second, but was never able to threaten thereafter despite two more counters in the third and one in the fifth.

Tigers Club A's To Defeat

Philadelphia (AP)—A pair of two-run homers by Jim Deising and Harvey Kuenn and bases-empty round trippers by Wayne Belardi and Frank Bolling overpowered the Philadelphia Athletics as the Detroit Tigers took a 9-4 decision before a sparse crowd of 1,675 last night.

Detroit—002 022 012—9 10 6.

Mantle Moves To Shortstop

New York (AP)—Mickey Mantle, who joined the New York Yankees as an infielder in 1951 but was converted into an outfielder before he ever played a single major league game, made his big league debut as a shortstop yesterday against the Chicago White Sox.

Shift

Mantle began the game in his normal centerfield position but Manager "Casey" Stengel switched him to shortstop in the ninth inning after the Yankees had scored twice in the eighth to tie the score at 3-3 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Stengel was forced to shift Mantle to short because he ran out of spare infielders, having used pinch hitters for second baseman Jerry Coleman and shortstop Willie Miranda. Coleman had replaced Gil McDougald, hurt earlier in the game.

McAdoo Earns Right To Meet Eastburg

Hazleton—McAdoo earned the right to oppose East Stroudsburg in third round playoff action in District Four next Monday by gaining an 11-8 victory over Hazleton Nationals on Wednesday night.

McAdoo scored 11 runs on only three hits and committed three errors. Hazleton batted out eight hits and booted three balls in the field.

The Nationals held a 6-0 lead going into the fourth inning when the Hazleton pitching staff issued seven bases on balls to bring about its downfall.

East Stroudsburg and McAdoo clash on the East Stroudsburg field.

Other Results

Last night's results featured Valley in a 5-4 nod over Greir City. Valley accounted for eight hits and committed three errors, while Greir City hit safely seven times and kicked four balls in the field.

Trescow outlasted Hazleton Americans last night, 4-3, on the strength of 10 hits and only two errors. Hazleton hit safely five times and committed four errors.

Trescow and Valley put their winning streaks on the line Monday.

RILEY

Sports Editor

Little League baseball fever in East Stroudsburg reached high tide for the current campaign last night when the Little League All-Stars of that borough scored an 8-0 verdict over Stroudsburg. This was the second victory in the District Four playoffs for East Stroudsburg and to the best of this reporter's knowledge is at least equal to any other playoff performance by a team from this area in the past. East Stroudsburg will attempt to land its third win next Monday on its home field once again.

There was a lot of interesting items worth chatting about in last night's tussle. To this writer the best thing in the game was the high calibre catching ability shown. John Pennell, Eastburg receiver, is a natural behind the bat, while Stroudsburg's "Butch" Kemmerer did a fine job for the losing team despite a painfully injured thumb. The most versatile players in the game were John Carson and Billy Schooner, both of Stroudsburg.

Carson pitched the first four innings, played third base for one and then wound up catching. Schooner split his time between third base, the pitching mound and shortstop. Defensive star of the night was Barry Hubert, Stroudsburg left fielder, who made two brilliant grabs in left field, the second of which was a big league play in every respect. He made a backhand, shoe string catch in the sixth that brought praise from both rooting sections, after making another good catch earlier in the contest.

East Stroudsburg's pitching has been little short of perfect thus far in the playoffs. The opposition has yet to score off the charges of managers Paul Metzger and Cliff Lambert. Charley Lupin allowed only two safeties while blending Mangor on Monday, while Jimmy Gerard limited Stroudsburg to five hits last night. No Stroudsburg batter was able to collect more than one hit last night and the only extra base blow was a double by Ronnie Bergman. The East Stroudsburg club has committed only one error in the first two playoffs.

The crowd, to the surprise of most every one witnessing last night's Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg game, wasn't as large as the one that witnessed Monday's encounter between East Stroudsburg and Bangor. Bill Bond, Eastburg right fielder, hit the initial playoff homer in the first inning of last night's tussle, with Evan Reese on base. The Eastburgers held the upper hand the remainder of the distance. Last night's game produced almost three times as many runs as the two playoff games played on Monday.

On Monday Stroudsburg defeated Pocono, 2-1, and East Stroudsburg nipped Bangor, 1-0. Major William Varney, third base umpire in last night's Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg game, is president of the Pocono Little League, a circuit that returned to regular season activity last night. That ball hit down the line in the early innings of last night's game that brought about a mild discussion between managers and umpires was definitely foul, as ruled by Tom Sommers, umpire behind the plate.

Another fielding gem in last night's battle was the pick up and throw of a ball hit into the hole between first and second by East Stroudsburg's Doug Dymond, who got his man at first. Dymond later outlegged a triple to go with a double in four trips to the plate. Pennell demonstrated his love for baseball when he was hit on the side of the face by a misjudged foul fly near the press box and came right back to his catching position without more than a second or two delay.

Gerard, in addition to pitching East Stroudsburg to victory, banded out a trio of singles. Frank Scagliati, last of three Stroudsburg pitchers, was the toughest of the trio. The little right hander stopped East Stroudsburg cold. Ladies' catch of a twisting foul fly near the East Stroudsburg dugout in the fifth was a tougher play than it appeared from the stands. Ladies grabbed the ball while leaning against the fence and completed the final out of the inning.

"Shorty" Owens, doing the announcing on the public address system during last night's game, warned everyone that tickets for the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities are going fast and that haste should be exercised in obtaining tickets. Take it from this scribe—Owens wasn't kidding even a little bit.

Tatamy's Early Lead Downs Roseto, 7-5

Tatamy—Tatamy made an early 6-0 advantage stand up in the face of a strong finish by Roseto last night and the third place team in the Blue Mountain League emerged on the long end of a 7-5 final score.

The host aggregation scored three times in the second, once in the third and twice in the fourth to hold a 6-0 edge behind the air-tight pitching of Bill Johns.

Both teams picked up single runs in the fifth and Roseto went on to score once in the sixth and three times in the seventh to narrowly miss doubling the score.

Payoff

Big blows of the game were a bases loaded double by Johns in the second inning and a solo home run by Bill Williams in the home half of the second.

Roseto's three-run seventh frame came about on a walk to Charley Eden, double by Leonard Castellucci, a triple by Maurice Ackerman and a single by Joe Basso.

Ackerman, a pitcher, was pressed into duty as a catcher when Roseto's first string receiver, Joe D'Imperio, suffered a hand injury. Tatamy accounted for 11 hits in a winning cause while Roseto was credited with eight safeties.

Today's Blue Mountain League schedule sends Tatamy against Martins Creek, at Martins Creek, at 6:15 p.m.

Miller Defeats Stroudsburg

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Camp Miller crushed Stroudsburg Play-ground in an outdoor basketball game yesterday by a 71-34 count. The game was played on the Camp Miller court.

Stroudsburg was never in the contest after failing to score a single point in the first period, while Camp Miller scored 15.

Domination

Camp Miller dominated play in every period and held a 34-11 edge at the halfway mark. Second half tabulation favored the home team by a 37-23 count.

Outstanding Soccer Figure Set For Eastburg Highlights

Ed Sullivan, of soccer fame, is the latest addition to the cast of the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show to be staged at Memorial Stadium on Sunday, August 15, it was announced by east director Tom Waring last night.

Sullivan joins such outstanding figures of the athletic world as Robert K. Christenberry, New York Boxing Commissioner; Jimmy Braddock, former heavyweight champion; Tommy Loughran, possibly the greatest of all light heavyweights, and the Hermann-ettes, world famous gymnastic troupe.

Tickets for the show are selling at five dollars apiece and all proceeds go toward payment of a new lighting system now under construction at Memorial Stadium.

Sullivan is president of the United States Soccer Football Association and the manager of the U. S. soccer team that recently defeated Haiti in the preliminary round of world play. Sullivan may be accompanied by Walter Barr, All-American at Temple for three years and a member of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Bernie McLaughlin, a member of the Philadelphia Nationals who has played on two Olympic and world championship teams.

Braves Scalp Phillies On Circuit Blow By Mathews, 3-2

Milwaukee (AP)—Eddie Mathews blasted a two-run 425-foot homer, his 23rd of the year, high into the rightfield bleachers in the first inning yesterday to give the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 win over Philadelphia.

Mathews, whose fourth inning error cost both Philadelphia runs, started a ninth inning double play which ended the game after the Phillies had filled the bases.

Final Run

The Braves got their other run in the sixth when "Hank" Aaron and Joe Adcock cracked back-to-back doubles after two were out. Danny O'Connell, who had walked, was on first when Mathews clouted his home run.

Dodgers Gain Ground With Nod Over Reds

Cincinnati (AP)—Although he had to have help from Jim Hughes, Don Newcombe hurled his first pitching victory since June 23 yesterday as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 8 to 5. Newcombe was aided by a costly 13-hit attack which included home runs by "Duke" Snider and "Pee Wee" Reese.

Newcombe was shelled out in the seventh when the Redlegs used two hits, two walks and an error for a pair of runs.

Consecutive doubles by Carl Furillo and Amoros gave the Dodgers their first run in the second inning. They picked up two in the fourth on Amoros' second double and singles by Roy Campanella and Newcombe and "Junior" Gilliam.

Snider's homer accounted for the fourth tally.

Deciding Runs

The two runs that proved to be the deciding tallies came in the seventh off Moe Savransky, who had relieved starter Karl Drevs.

Reese opened with a homer. Snider was hit by a pitched ball. Gil Hodges singled and Snider scored when Furillo hit into a doubleplay.

The Dodgers' final two runs in the eighth came on two walks, a passed ball, a long foul fly and singles by Snider and Billy Cox.

Ted Kuszewski's 26th home run of the season scored Cincinnati's first two runs in the fourth after Roy McMillan had walked.

Barrett Upsets Mount Pocono

Five Runs In Fifth Frame - Decide Issue

Mount Pocono—Barrett Rotary upset Mount Pocono Rotary in a Pocono Little League baseball game played last night here on the losing club's home grounds by a 6-3 count.

The home team opened with two markers in the first inning and appeared well on its way to another victory. But Barrett's Charley Zink tightened and blanked Mount Pocono the remainder of the distance except for a single tally in the fifth frame.

Barrett, after going scoreless for three frames, picked up a single run in the fourth inning and then drove John Reap to cover with a five-run outburst in the fifth frame. Lou Kinney finished on the mound for Mount Pocono.

Zink limited Mount Pocono to nine hits, while his mates did all their damage on only four safeties off Reap and Lou Kinney. Wildness on the part of Mount Pocono pitchers proved fatal to their victory chances.

No member of the winning club was able to account for more than one safety. Lou Kinney led the winning attack with a perfect play.

Last night's victory was the first for Barrett Rotary over Mount Pocono in two years.

Bangor Legion Tops Hellertown

Bangor—Bangor won its second straight decision in the Northampton County Junior Legion League last night by taking the measure of Hellertown, 4-3, here at Memorial Park.

Pitchers

Gary Strouse, Larry Raph and Joe Antonucci divided the Bangor pitching chore, with the latter gaining credit for the win. Fritchman pitched the distance for Hellertown.

Indians Protect Slim American League Lead With Pair Of Favorable Decisions Over Bosox

Boston (AP)—The league-leading Cleveland Indians combined longball hitting with tight pitching performances by veterans Bob Feller and Bob Lemon yesterday to sweep a doubleheader from Boston 6-3 and 5-2 in Fenway Park.

Lemon, now 10-5, held the Red Sox hitless until his pitching rival "Skinny" Brown bunched a one-out single over the head of third baseman Al Smith in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Lemon got rattled and yielded a hit to Billy Conzolo and uncorked a wild pitch, but then settled down until the ninth. Ted Wil-fans led off that inning with a single and rookie Harry Agganis homered but that ended Boston's scoring.

The twin triumphs gave Cleveland a 13-1 margin against the Red Sox this season. The Indians now have won seven of their last eight in the tight American League pennant scramble.

The Red Sox and Indians battled to a 16-inning 5-5 tie Tuesday night and played to a 7-7 standoff Wednesday in a game halted after eight innings because of rain.

In the opener Vic Wertz drove in four runs with two homers for Feller's seventh consecutive pitching victory.

Feller, now 8-1 for the season, got off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Wertz socked a two-run homer and the Red Sox committed three errors. Ted Williams pulled Boston into a 3-3 tie with a two-run homer in the fifth, his 14th of the year.

Cubs Crush Giants With Three Homers

Chicago (AP)—The Chicago Cubs scored 11 runs, seven of them unearned, in the seventh and eighth innings to defeat the first place New York Giants, 13-5, before a ladies' day turnout of 29,136 yesterday.

The game was marred by seven errors, five charged to the Cubs. Randy Jackson hit his 18th and 19th homers and Gene Baker blasted an inside-the-park round tripper for his 10th homer.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh with one run. Then the Cub ball got underway in the eighth.

Rally

Shortstop Ernie Banks tripled to open the inning but was forced at the plate by Hal Rice, a pinch hitter. Frankie Baumholtz, another guest swinger, walked and Baker homered on Marv Gissin for his level. It was a low liner which bounced past Monte Irvin, charging in for a shoe string catch.

Jackson, whose first inning homer followed a Jim Hearn walk to Dee Fondy, then drove another in to the leftfield seats for two runs after Fondy had survived on the pitcher's fumble at first base.

Lt. (jg) Frank L. Kovarick

Stroudsburg Naval Aviator Chosen 'Student Of Week'

NAAS SAUFLEY FIELD, PENSACOLA, FLA.—Frank L. Kovarick, lieutenant, junior grade, U. S. Navy, was selected as "student of the week" here during the week of July 12-16 over more than 300 other flight trainees.

Lt. Kovarick, son of Mrs. Joseph Kovarick, Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg, Pa., was chosen on the merits he has earned by his excellent formation flying during his tactical syllabus training. Also counting toward his selection were his outstanding leadership qualities, his spirit of group cooperation, and his attitude toward his instructors and fellow students.

With the completion of his formation flights in a few weeks, Frank will go on to the gunnery, instrument training and carrier qualification stages of training at Pensacola before leaving for advanced training at Corpus Christi, Texas, in a few months.
